Modern Slavery Statement

GB-Sol is committed to preventing modern slavery and human trafficking in all areas of its business and supply chain.

Modern slavery is a serious violation of fundamental human rights and can take many forms, including forced labour, child labour, bonded labour, servitude and human trafficking. We maintain a zero-tolerance approach to such practices.

As a British manufacturer, we are committed to conducting business lawfully, ethically and responsibly. We expect our employees, contractors, suppliers and business partners to uphold the same standards.

We seek to work with suppliers who share our commitment to responsible business practices and undertake appropriate due diligence where relevant. We support transparency and responsible sourcing throughout the solar value chain.

Employees, suppliers, customers and other stakeholders are encouraged to raise concerns regarding suspected modern slavery, unethical conduct or human rights abuses. Reports will be treated seriously and investigated appropriately.

Our website includes a Complaints and Speak Up form that may be used to raise concerns, including anonymously where permitted by law.

We are committed to continually reviewing and improving our policies, procedures and supply chain engagement activities to help prevent modern slavery and promote respect for human rights.

This statement is reviewed periodically and reflects GB-Sol's commitment to responsible and ethical business practices.
